

KNOWLEDGE TRANSFER PARTNERSHIPS (KTP)

How does it work?

Knowledge Transfer Partnerships link forward thinking organisations with world-class academic teams to deliver innovation projects led by motivated graduates.

KTPs are a three-way partnership between a:

- UK-based business or not-for-profit organisation of any size
- UK-based academic organisation
- suitably qualified graduate to lead a strategic business project

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF A KTP?

- Fantastic way of getting academic expertise and support from the university for the project
- Cost-effective way of recruiting a suitable skilled person to work on a specific, strategic business challenge
- Access to university resources and equipment
- A way of developing your business making it more competitive and productive with 'fresh eyes'
- The costs of the KTP is split with Innovate UK
